"Confirm" the A with Jaw Vibrato and Fp Breath then sustain the note in its most open position. Then pull the bottom lip/chin down with the jaw bone (open the mouth/separate the teeth) to lock into the next lower note/groove (G). Do not relax the bottom lip or chin muscles. Master the Jaw Trill to lock into the deepest part of every note. Slurring upwards seems hard because many want to crunch the chin upwards which just pinches the sound and then the air hits a ceiling in the note. Keep the bottom lip/chin firm and move the jaw upwards from the bottom of the note so the air locks into the bottom of the next note. Use a mirror to confirm the chin stays firm and flexed. Keep the tongue always down. This is the main technique of moving from any note to any other note (bottom to bottom).
